ARCHBISHOP LYKE
a Partnership School
At Partnership Schools, we have faith in every child. We believe each young person is made for excellence. And we take pride in our approach to unlocking the gifts God has given them.

We invite you to find out more about what it means to believe at Archbishop Lyke School.
Mission-driven, caring, and effective teachers and leaders run Partnership Schools. Our network provides sustained coaching and professional development, so that students from kindergarten to 8th grade experience individualized, values-driven, and joy-filled instruction each day.

People make the difference.
Rich curriculum empowers.

We believe that what students learn matters enormously. That’s why children across all grades, kindergarten through 8, are immersed in mathematics, history, science and the arts, and it’s why we emphasize the importance of reading, discussing, and writing about great literature.

Thanks to this focus on teaching rigorous content and hard work, our students are prepared for high school, college, and life. Each year, Partnership Schools graduates are accepted to Cleveland’s top high schools—including St. Martin de Porres, St. Edward, St. Ignatius, Benedictine, and Central Catholic.
Joy and discipline matter.

When you walk into Archbishop Lyke, you will see a calm, safe learning environment, and you will hear the productive joy that comes from a community of teachers and students who love to learn.

We believe that joy is the strongest evidence of God’s presence and so, from our morning gathering through our extended day and even into our after-school programs, our teachers and staff strive to reflect the joy that we take in learning and growing together.

I would like my son to get the best education possible and to go to a school where he can grow with integrity and faith.

I appreciate the value of a good education in an environment that instills good values, kindness and respect for all.

Faith transforms.

We welcome students of all faith backgrounds to experience a profound sense of being loved and called to a purpose larger than ourselves.

Our faculty leads students in daily prayer, and we gather together regularly for Mass. Our students hear often how each of them is called to do great and good things, and they can come to know a deep sense of peace.

Archbishop James P. Lyke was the first black bishop of Cleveland and later the Archbishop of Atlanta. Archbishop Lyke Catholic School was founded in 1993 when St. Henry Catholic School merged with St. Timothy. More parishes joined the mission, and today Archbishop Lyke carries the legacy of 10 parish schools that have served the greater Cleveland community for more than 120 years.
